Risk of nonsyndromic cleft lip and palate in relatives of women with breast cancer.

Martelli DR, Vieira AR, Fonseca AT, Coletta RD, Soares PB, Martelli-Júnior H. Am J Med Genet A. 2013 Nov 20. doi: 10.1002/ajmg.a.36186. [Epub ahead of print]

Student Rotations

3rd-Year dental students are participating in an inter-professional experience as part of their rotations. Students shadow doctors at the UPMC Digestive Disease Center and offer dental evaluations to patients at the DDC. Studies have suggested that periodontal disease is connected to various systemic diseases, such as irritable bowel disease. This rotation aims to give the students experience working with physicians and nurses in a hospital setting.

Lab News

Dentistry 3000, an online dental and oral health research journal created by Dr. Vieira to provide a new venue for publication with no costs for authors, has pushed its first issue. The journal seeks papers on any areas of dentistry. The issue includes five papers that have been accepted over the past year. These articles include the following topics:

- The association of cleft lip and palate with interferon regulatory factor 6
- The association of cancer with cleft lip and palate
- The relationship of tooth dimensions and sex
- The heritability of facial structures
- The proceedings of the cariology symposium at the 2012 IADR meeting

To see the first issue of Dentistry 3000, please visit dentistry3000.pitt.edu.

Dentistry 3000 is supported by the University Library Systems, University of Pittsburgh, as part of its D-Scribe Digital Publishing Program, and is cosponsored by the University of Pittsburgh Press. We'd like to thank ULS, the editors, the reviewers, the authors, and everyone else who has made Dentistry 3000 possible.
